AGM REVEALS ANOTHER RECORD YEAR

THE QAS AGM revealed another record breaking year for the Art Society with more members' art sales at the Gallery, Plaza and the Annual Art Show as well as more exhibition entries. We ran more workshops, with increased sponsorship, and had increased Gallery Painter's attendance. Bring and Buy sales and the number of new members also increased. Extra Art Grants from the NSW Government and the QPRC will add extra improvements to the Gallery. To top off these wonderful achievements four new committee members have been elected to the 2019-20 Committee. The new committee members are Garry Dennis, Jim Sullivan, Anne Thurlow and Rosemary White. The Society has been 'gifted' by willing members who have come forward to share the load as committee members. Hard working secretary Rosanna Burston was awarded a Life Membership of QAS for her outstanding work as secretary.

QPRC ART EXHIBITION

THE Annual Queanbeyan Palerang Regional Council Art Competition/Exhibition saw new Council Culture officer Benita Tunk judge the exhibition. Benita was pleasantly surprised at the standard and the number of entries. "My move to the Culture Officer has surprised me. Queanbeyan is a large art hub and the QAS Gallery is a true reflection of the fine works in the city." Benita judged five mediums with three awards in each.

PRESIDENT'S PALETTE

I was pleased with the QAS AGM which revealed just how successful the art society is going with many members getting art awards at the monthly Art Competitions/Exhibitions, the excellent number of members works sold and the expansion of the gallery facilities which has allowed the Society to open the doors of this community facility to attract more members. We must be thankful to the NSW State Government and the QPRC for their financial help. I appreciate members re-electing me as the President of the Society, I am honoured to take up the position again. Members can be assured that this year we have a well balanced committee, four new committee members to have all positions covered. I would like to thank last year's committee for their support. I was delighted to nominate our ever-working secretary Rosanna Burston for Life Membership. I am looking forward to another record year because the

QAS SCULPTURE CLASSES OPEN

SCULPTURE Classes at QAS Gallery take place every Wednesday evenings - regardless of school holidays etc Front door opens 5.30pm - some of us meet to have our meal and a chat ahead of the session starting at 6.30pm.

Sculpture/drawing pose 6.30pm - 8.30pm - same pose for the 2 hrs - but everyone moves round the model as need be. ii) Drawing: 8.30 - 9pm - model chooses 3 varied ten minute poses for us to draw from.

Models alternate - female for 5 weeks, then male for 5 weeks (to our best intentions) Currently female model - last pose of this session - Wed 1 May Next male - Wed 5 May - 5 June Clean-up & up of tea - 9 - 9.30pm

Cost: All sessions $15 - covers the model, and QAS use - any extra goes into a 'float' for those sessions where there are not enough participants to cover the model/QAS cost.

At this stage no bookings are necessary. Sometimes there are 14 people, sometimes 7 or 8 attend.

What to bring:

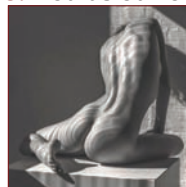

1. Drawing/painting: Please bring all your own paints/charcoal/paper. There are some boards that are available as well, and the use of a chair from long gallery.

2. Sculpture: Please bring your own clay, a board to work on and tools you need. Also some cling-wrap to keep clay wet from week to week, and a spray bottle to wet it down as needed. There are 6 stands on wheels that you can use to work on - on first come basis.

3. You use our own stands that suit our height. If you don't have a stand, you could use a chair turned facing you to rest your board on. There is a bit of shelf space in the back shed to keep your current sculpture on for the 5 sessions.

But please take home at the end of that 5 weeks, so there is room for the following sculpture session to start again. This means that soft clay or wax does not have to be taken back and forth and risk some disaster on the road - except on the final trip home.

These sessions are coordinated by - Jim Sullivan - 0401343719 jimsullivan49@gmail.com

QAS ENTERS INTO YOUNG ARTS

WORKING with young artists has been a desired goal of the Queanbeyan Art Society for some time.

President Barry Cranston saw an opportunity in 2017 to bring a Young Artist Exhibition into the 2018 calendar.

Contacts were made with many schools in the Queanbeyan and Canberra region. A school that wholeheartedly came on board was Queanbeyan High School with Art Teacher Jacqui Ryding. Discussions with Jacqui gave us good information on the organisation needed.

We targeted the following age groups: See Entry form attached. (Note that when entries arrived the 18 yr artists did not enter, their works were kept at school for the HSC. We ended with Sections 12-13y, 14-15y, and 16-17 yrs. 41 students entered, 12 prizes were awarded. The majority of students came from Queanbeyan High School. Three winners in each section and 3 overall winners. Total prizemoney of $1050 thanks to ADFAS and the Queanbeyan Art Society. Please see the attached Judges Comments, really worth reading. The judge was Sally O'Neill, Education Office of Goulburn Regional Art Gallery. A great find of a judge, she was lovely and really enjoyed the Young art.

Schools entering were, Queanbeyan High School, Canberra Grammar School, Campbell High School, Melrose High School, Dickson College. Young artists from Jerrabomberra, Captains Flat, Bungendore, Queanbeyan, Campbell, Kambah, Pearce, Downer, Melba. Quite a good spread. QAS members encouraged their children/grandchildren to enter. Jacqui Ryding from QHS impressed us with her enthusiasm for the Exhibition. It aligned with her aim to show her students that Art Matters and can be a career path. I'm attaching here a sample from her thank you letter to QAS. Jacqui was tremendously helpful to us and we learned a lot from her. Thank-you once again for giving our students this opportunity. I would like to share a story that touched my heart, a boy who won a prize was very surprised to win third prize in his age section. He shared with me he had been drawing over the holidays, (inspired and encouraged by his win) and his parents want to frame his work. It is a wonderful experience to work with students and be part of the journey from struggle to the gaining of confidence and artistic expression. Art can change the world or at least change people's life dramatically. Go art!! Thank you all from the bottom of my heart, Jacqui.

MEMBERS NEWSLETTERS DELIVERY

AS all members are aware, QAS is trying to keep costs down and as part of that exercise, you have opted to collect your newsletter at the Gallery, which is a great saving. Thank you. To date, newsletters have been placed in a labelled envelope for gallery painters. The committee is hopeful that members might be agreeable to just collecting a newsletter from the table. Do we need envelopes?

If you feel strongly about this, and feel the envelope is necessary, please let us know.
