THE REAL ART OF PLANTING A SILO SEED

PLANTING A SILO OF ART

THE art of painting silos has captured the hearts of art lovers and many stories are being told in huge proportions on the silo canvas. Not to be outdone the QPRC has kept up with the large mural paintings, under the Queanbeyan Queen's Bridge. What an appropriate position on the road to the QAS Gallery!

Visual Language QAS MEMBER

Indian artist Sukhvinder Sagg, who has been living and working in Canberra, Australia, since 1997, paints primarily in a traditional realistic style. However, he sometimes does abstract expressionist works to free himself from a more precise process. Those paintings are filled with bold brushstrokes and abstract shapes. "Transforming your emotional tension to a visual language onto a two-dimensional surface, one needs forms, shapes, colors, textures and some methodology," he says. "I prefer a very tidy, tightly rendered fine art image but not exactly hyperrealism."

Sagg finds inspiration in the objects and the people in his daily life, and his artwork is usually done in continuous series. For example, 15 years ago Sagg began the floral series Close Encounter where each flower was painted on a large canvas. "I felt society now has less time to pause and 'smell the flowers' due to the advent of the internet," he explains. "Then I followed it up with a series on still life paintings by arranging simple objects with my favorite fruits on a tabletop. I am currently working on a series based on people, faces and figures."

One painting from the still life series is

Lemon Tea, which was inspired by a tea set that a friend gifted Sagg. "The tea set has a very harmonious contrast colour that motivated me to paint it to celebrate the friendship in a painting," he says. "After various arrangements with the tea set I settled on a couple of lemons arranged on the edge of a coffee table over a smooth tablecloth that was painted in purple to highlight the yellow color of lemons."

Along with his commissions, Sagg has participated in many art competitions and exhibitions and has won awards in India and Australia. ●

MEMBERS, it is that time of the year when your hard working committee want your extra help. QAS will hold the 12th Annual Art Show, City Walk Canberra the 'Heart of Canberra'! We are hoping to make this once again a huge success with many sales and exposure of our art, but we need plenty of works for the Exhibition. It is exciting that for the first time we will be having sculptures. No doubt they will attract a great deal of attention. Again we need members to support this Art Exhibition and a reminder the next QAS Gallery Exhibition will be in November. To help defray cost we are asking members to give any good novels they may have finished with and we will sell them in City Walk. You can leave them at the Gallery or deliver them to the City Walk site on opening day.

What a wonderful front page of members' art sales from three venues. I am often told our members continually produce quality works for our monthly Exhibitions. Well done!

A sale for Jenny Cleaver was very pleasing.

Art Therapy Sessions: WENT well at QAS in early July. Also First Aid boxes are now located in the Working Gallery, an easier place to find them if needed. Committee member Patricia Reynolds will check the First Aid box has everything needed for use.

Thanks Nyree Mason for the idea!

THANK YOU APPRECIATED

LETTER TO QAS

1. What I enjoy about the workshop with Ted Lewis? Ted's method of teaching was SO good - the demonstrations he gave were really impressive and also the way he worked his way around the room and helped each attendee individually; no one missed out! We were all so transfixed watching him working on everyone's work and the way he approached each piece with the same overall methods, his colour mixing techniques and wonderful brushwork it was an extra bonus and added even more to what we learnt. Using a limited palette was also great - makes you get back to basics with mixing and there is not a huge outlay - also good if you are on the move, there is no need to card suitcases full of equipment along! The I have never attended a workshop where the tutor was so personable and generous with every single student - his teaching method is outstanding. You are put at ease the whole time there is no rush and the fact that he starts the workshop saying that we are learning techniques, and may not go home with a masterpiece puts everyone at ease. However, we did all go home with a masterpiece thanks to Ted's generosity and the time he spent with each of us. I am so grateful that QAS has been able to keep the workshop prices so that people can afford to attend; I am finding since I stopped working a lot of workshops are priced far beyond what I can afford to pay. So big thanks to QAS - you are providing much needed professional tuition that 'normal' people can afford - its a community service!

2. I would sincerely love to do another workshop with Ted Lewis - if you have an interest list Please put me on it!!!!!!

3. It is always so beautiful to attend workshops at QAS - So organised and the hospitality is fantastic, its like a retreat!!! Thanks so much for going to all the trouble you go to for us.

4. It I can honestly not think of one thing - it was fantastic all round. Thanks so much.

Kind Regards, Jeanette Zvargulis
