ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING 2021

2.00pm, Saturday 29th May, 2021 at The Queanbeyan Art Society Gallery,
6 Trinculo Place, Queanbeyan

All committee positions are declared vacant at the AGM.

 The Secretary and Treasurer roles are open to nomination (both are retiring).
MEMBERS please nominate for a position on the committee.
(Please see the nomination form).

Your assistance is requested, please consider becoming part of the committee.

To nominate for the committee, please ask a member to nominate you and another to second. Put your nomination in the box at QAS or email to Rosanna:
rosanna.burston@gmail.com

If you wish to nominate someone, ask them. If they agree, propose them, use the form, and have another member second their nomination.

Place the nomination form in the box at the gallery or send to Rosanna.
rosanna.burston@gmail.com

We need to have new people on the committee with fresh thoughts and energy.

The Queanbeyan Art Society requests members to put themselves forward for the continued benefit of all members.

In the envious position of having our own premises, QAS provides unique art offerings in our region and has a wonderful reputation for art and endeavour.

 Please make the effort to attend the QAS AGM!

QAS TUESDAY PAINTERS

HERITAGE WEEK AT QAS

HERITAGE Week QAS 2021 'Re-Imagine the past' Charlotte Faunce Ryrie has been Re-Imagined at QAS for heritage week. No longer an 1860 wedding day belle, our artists have re-imagined her as a keen 2021 cricketer like her police magistrate father and after that relaxing on the riverbank, catching up with friends on her mobile. Or maybe even saying 'I'll be home soon Darling' to husband Alexander.

Come along during April 2 to May 1st to see Charlotte living in 2021 at Queanbeyan Art Society.

MEDIA RELEASE

COUNCIL provides assistance for QUEANBEYAN ART SOCIETY

Barry Cranston (Pres.) has announced that the Queanbeyan Palerang Regional Council has provided assistance for the Queanbeyan Art Society (QAS) Tutor Workshop Audio-Visual System through a grant towards the cost of the system.

Barry said that the QAS AV System will allow art tutors to demonstrate techniques in fine detail to many people, while members can keep social distance and still see clearly. Students can watch the finer points in real-time, broadcast via camera to the TV screens. Students will be ensured of enhanced tuition and easier learning. This system will attract tutors and art participants to Queanbeyan Art Society.

Queanbeyan Art Society is a strong art group in the QPRC region and has provided art education and events in the local area for 54 years. We thank QPRC for its continued support for the community.

Queanbeyan Art Society is in Trinculo Place, Queanbeyan, and welcomes all visitors to our riverbank setting to view art, talk to members and see the AV System recently installed.

Barry Cranston (Pres.) on behalf of Queanbeyan Art Society warmly thanked Council for its support this year and encourages all members of the community come and experience the system of art projection at QAS.

HUGE LOCAL ART EXHIBITION AT QUEANBEYAN

THE QPRC 2021 Art Awards and Exhibition will be in The Q Exhibition Space in Queanbeyan with the official opening and awards ceremony taking place on Thursday 27 May. The exhibition will be open to the public from 28 May to 19 June.

Key dates, entry forms and terms and conditions will be available on the QPRC website and from QPRC libraries from 15 March. This is the first year that artists will be able to register their entries online in advance of the awards.

Artists requiring further information can email the QPRC Culture and Arts team at Cultural.Services@qprc.nsw.gov.au

PRESIDENT'S PALETTE

THE QAS Annual General Meeting is coming up and sadly two of our best committee workers are standing down. Secretary Rosanna Burton and Treasurer Dee Boardman are stepping back after many years of wonderful service and friendship to the Society. On behalf of all members I would like to thank Rosanna and Dee for their 'sterling effort'. QAS is a better place for their hard work! I would hope members will attend the AGM making sure these positions are filled for the benefit of the Society. It was pleasing to see master artist John Wilson back at the QAS Gallery with his wonderful oil workshop. Prior to last year's lockdown John was unwell and it has been three years since we had the benefit of his skills. John, thank you for the beautiful landscape painting you donated for the Society to raffle.

A lovely thought! Members are reminded to please come forward and help out when you can on entry days etc.

Yours in Art,
Barry Cranston

DISCOVER THE ARTS

ADFAS societies present a series of quality lectures by leading arts experts.

Every ADFAS meeting includes a lively social forum and light refreshments.

ADAS was first established in Sydney in 1985 and was inspired by the National Association of Decorative and Fine Arts in the UK. There is now an extensive network of local ADFAS societies across regional and metropolitan Australia with 6000 members and 37 local branches.

Our local branch, ADFAS Molonglo Plains, was established in 2014 for those rural and regional members who prefer a daytime meeting, with time to socialise afterwards over afternoon tea. Our aim is to provide a top class program of speakers, whilst also providing financial support and encouragement in the creative arts to young people in our communities.

Competition brings local talent to art society

THE Queanbeyan Art Society, now more than 50 years old, has a brand-new competitive exhibition that will make for a fascinating display, says president Barry Cranston.

Located by the picturesque Queanbeyan River in the historic O'Neill's Cottage, the Queanbeyan Art Society is the only art society in Australia to run an exhibition every month of the year with an average of 120 works, says Barry. "[For the new exhibition] entrants can paint people, places, animals, or sculpt anything that comes out of their imagination," he says.

"There'll be a diverse range of perspectives, styles, and ways of seeing the world on the walls, especially as it's open to absolutely any age wishing to enter."

For those inspired to get in touch with their creative side,

Barry says the art society also offers a range of classes and workshops to enjoy.

"We run classes every day of the week, and we have 12 workshops throughout the year open to anyone wishing to develop their artistic skills," he says.

"There are also sculpting classes in the evening, as well as life drawing classes."

The art society is open from 10am to 1pm, every day of the week.
