THE CHAMPIONS OF LOCKDOWN

THE QAS members who beat the COVID Lockdown have been busy painting and producing some lovely work for the September QAS Newsletter.

They have championed their members to send their paintings. It is hoped the QAS Lockdown for members to sell their art. Newsletter has a very large for our members to sell their. At this stage all enquiries for a artists would put a price on the summit works that they are craft and will no doubt inspire other for the next QAS Newsletter. Art for our members will be a vehicle QAS has an excellent website and our distribution and will be another avenue works. sale would come through QAS and the painting. All members are asked to working on or finishing off.

Who knows this could be the master plan to eventually sell QAS Members art!

MEMBERS WILL BE ADVISED

Members will understand that the committee is very conscious of the COVID situation changing all the time and it is a bit like being on a small boat in the ocean and not being able to see land.

Obviously we want to get the Gallery open as soon as possible for many reasons and the Queanbeyan Leagues Exhibition has been retained to possibly give it more exposure. It is hopeful the ADFAS Young Artists Competition/Exhibition will get a start but only time will tell. The committee encourages members to keep painting and their works will be printed in each monthly QAS Newsletter.

PRESIDENT'S PALETTE

THESE are very challenging times for everyone but we artists do have a huge advantage over most because it is giving us more opportunity to do our chosen craft.

I must say that some members have told me that for whatever reason there are times they have not felt like painting and I must say that has been the case for me. Never the less there are others who have hit a clover patch, well done.

The committee is looking at every which way to try and get the Gallery open but only time will tell. I would encourage members to try and paint works for the monthly QAS Newsletter and we will fill it with 'QAS Lockdown Art' and get as much exposure as possible and who knows sales may eventuate for this new venture.

Please when you send your LA paintings you make sure your full name is with the email. I had one with just Maria the other day and do you know how many Marias we have!

Sorry if you missed out this month getting your painting in the Newsletter but we will use it next month.

Yours in Art,
Barry Cranston
President

A QUICK SNAP OF QAS HISTORY

2003 -2017: President Barry Cranston
Fourteen years of growth for the Society.

1982: First tutorials held at the Gallery.

1983: 21 years old and celebrated at the Hotel Queanbeyan.

1990: By now two exhibitions held per year.

1993: Numbers had dwindled, a time for renewal. President Phil Grienke introduced events including recreational painting, social fellowship, education, demonstrations by working artists and discussion nights on painting techniques. Life drawing classes were conducted twice weekly. Numbers rose from 5 to 70 members in three months.

Jill Grienke regularly wrote articles for publication in the Queanbeyan Age.

1997: 30th Anniversary exhibition opened by Mayor Frank Pangallo.

1998-2000: Membership 150. Four competitions, two member competitions, tutors and exhibitions by guest artists.

The cottage now supports a full program of art activities, more wall space, bigger exhibitions and more visitors to the gallery. More space has resulted in 11 exhibitions a year, a major achievement for an art society operated by volunteers.
