PRESIDENT'S PALETTE

THE QAS Committee and many members can take a bow for yet another wonderful effort for the month of April 2023. As many would realise it takes a huge effort to put the QAS Art Show on the road each month. As President it gives pleasure to see our members step up when required and if more members feel they could help please contact me, there is always something to do. Regular QAS 'Lens Girl' Leigh Murray is on a break and Dee Boardman stepped up and with help from daughter Kelly screened the Opening presentations. Now sometimes we let things slip under the door but should never forget the excellent work Karen Hall and Patricia Fleming do making Bring and Buy happen. Last Opening $699! The success of the 'On The Fence Art Exhibition' for our members proved a really good event.

We had two Guest Speakers at the last Opening Rosaline Rimes-Reich (Life Drawing and Sculptures) and Margaret Hadfield (A Life in Art).

Yours in Art,
Barry Cranston
President

JULIE BALLIS PORTRAIT WORKSHOP

THE Queanbeyan Art Society recently hosted a successful portrait painting workshop led by the renowned portrait artist, Julie Ballis. As a life member of the Society, Julie brought her wealth of experience to the workshop, providing participants with valuable insights and techniques for creating stunning portraits.

The workshop was held over two half days and included two live portrait models (Renee and Stuart) who posed for the participants. The artists had the opportunity to work with studio lighting to capture the unique features and expressions of each model. Through Julie's guidance, participants learned how to bring their paintings to life, paying attention to details such as the play of light and shadow and the nuances of facial expression.

Despite the intense focus required, the workshop was relaxed and convivial, with participants encouraged to share their progress with one another and discuss techniques and approaches. Participants produced one or two portraits during the workshop, each reflecting their unique style and personality.

Julie Ballis is a highly respected portrait artist, known for her ability to capture the essence of her subjects. Her work has been exhibited widely in Australia and internationally, and she has won numerous awards for her portraits. As a teacher, Julie is patient and generous, sharing her knowledge and expertise with students of all levels.

The Queanbeyan Art Society is a non-profit organisation dedicated to promoting and supporting the arts in the Queanbeyan region. They offer a range of workshops and events throughout the year, providing opportunities for artists of all levels to learn, create and connect. The successful portrait painting workshop with Julie Ballis was a testament to the Society's commitment to fostering artistic excellence and supporting the local community. Participants left the workshop inspired and energised, ready to apply their newfound knowledge and techniques to their own artwork.

2023 QAS WORKSHOPS

THE 2023 QAS Workshop Program is almost complete, and we will commence bookings for all workshops from 12 December 2022 (noting the John Wilson Workshop bookings opened in March 2022 and the Julie Ballis Portrait Workshop will initially be open only to last year's participants until 2 January 2023).

QAS is changing the booking system this year to streamline bookings and reduce the burden on the workshop coordinator and treasurer in accounting for attendance and payments. If you reserve a position in a workshop, you will need to pay the full amount for the workshop within three months before the workshop to secure your position. We will no longer be accepting deposits.

QAS is introducing a refund policy this year to recognise the costs incurred by QAS when members are unable to attend a booked workshop. If a member is unable to attend a booked workshop and provides sufficient notice to enable a replacement to be found, the member will receive a refund for the full amount paid minus a $30 cancellation fee. If QAS is unable to find a replacement, a cancellation fee of 50% of the workshop fee will be charged. If there are exceptional circumstances, the member may apply to the executive to have the cancellation fees reviewed.

We have held the workshop fees at the 2022 level for all 2023 workshops. Note the fees below are members prices with non-members paying a surcharge of $45 for each workshop.

18-19 February – Julie Ballis – Portraits. Workshop fee of $90

Learn to paint portraits, any medium, two afternoons, two models, two portraits. During this workshop, Julie will walk you through the steps of creating a lifelike portrait. (This is a rescheduled workshop and priority will be given to participants who were booked into the October 2022 Workshop)

23-24 March – John Wilson 2 day Oil painting Master class Workshop – Into the Light

Workshop Fee $230 - This workshop is almost full

25-29 March – John Wilson 5 day Oil painting Masterclass Workshop – Into the Light

Workshop Fee $585 - This workshop is almost full

22-23 April – Amanda McLean – Journal Making and Journaling – Workshop Fee $180 plus a payment of $25 to Amanda for a Journal making materials kit. Amanda will provide you with the materials to make a journal and on the first day of the workshop you will be guided through the process of making a unique journal. On Day 2 you will experiment with various journaling techniques as Amanda leads you through a series of exercises in your new journal.

20 May Maxine Sumner – Using Yupo Paper – Workshop Fee $50. In this one day workshop Maxine will take you through the tips and tricks you need to know when using Yupo Paper with water colour and other mediums. You will mainly be working with water colour. The workshop fee includes the Yupo paper you will use in the workshop.

17-18 June – Ev Hales – Watercolour - Scrutinizing the limits of “Scapes” – Workshop Fee $230.

Ev Hales is coming to Queanbeyan Art Society for the first time to take you on a two day journey to create several watercolour “scape” masterpieces. She is a very accomplished artist and tutor, and you can see examples of her work at www.evhailes.com

22-23 July – Stephanie Clarke – Pastels - Creating Floral Treasures Workshop – Workshop Fee $230.

Stephie will also be making her first trip to Queanbeyan Art Society to teach you her unique steps of using hard and soft pastels on floral, fruit and other still life paintings. Stephie is an accomplished tutor and artist who is best known for free and flowing paintings uninhibited by rules and boundaries as she creates incredible depth in her work. You can see examples of her work at www.stephieclark.net

12-13 August - Ted Lewis – Masterclass in Oils Workshop – Workshop Fee $230

16-17 September - Leigh Walker - Working with acrylics: a journey through the layers

Workshop fee $180

To book, send an email to the workshop Coordinator atqasworkshopandrew@gmail.com to reserve a position. You will then be directed to make a payment by direct bank transfer to the QAS account. Once this is received, your position will be secured.

FOOD AND ART ON QUEANBEYAN RIVER

THE new Cartel Taqueria Restaurant is open next to the Queanbeyan Art Society Gallery on the bank of the Queanbeyan River and is it time for Queanbeyan to get serious about the 'Pie In The Sky' and develop the up lifting idea. There is plenty of room in the sky!

Mexican just across the border

The Petridis family is back with an exciting new restaurant in Queanbeyan

ANNA Petridis has the golden touch. She and her family have opened a stunning Mexican restaurant, Cartel Taqueria, on the banks of the Queanbeyan River, that has people lining up to get in. (There's no bookings).

It follows their former long-time ownership of the Cafe Pattison in Manuka where they invented the freak shake. And then they caused a new phenomenon in 2021 when family matriarch Gina started selling her special-recipe apple pie through their Crack Bakery.

Their latest restaurant moved into a space vacated by a long-time cafe in Queanbeyan's Ray Morton Park on the eastern bank of the river. The waterfront location has been transformed into a boho-Mexican catana that extends out on to the grass, with tables under the trees.

"I'd always driven over the bridge but I'd never actually come here," she said. "And then I saw the listing and thought, 'I'll come and have a look'. When I saw it, I thought,

Anna Petridis (top) behind the bar of Cartel Taqueria. Picture by Keegan Carroll

Anna says a lot of people tell her she has the golden touch. "But I very much have imposter syndrome. But I'm very obsessive about the things I do and I'm really crazy about details. And I still think we have room to improve."

"In my experience, it's very easy to get people to try a place when it's new. I'm very relieved and grateful it's so busy. My new stress is about making sure people keep coming back here over a long time. But know what I'm doing. It's not my first rodeo and I'm really proud of it. The place is exactly how I envisaged, but even better. I've never loved work so much."

The restaurant is Anna's second baby. She and husband Tasos welcomed their first child, Lydia, only six months ago. "I really like being busy but it's definitely not just the 'me' show, I have a very, very good support network," she said.

Cartel Taqueria, 6 Trinculo Place, Queanbeyan. Open Thursday to Sunday from noon to 8pm or 9pm.

Barry Cranston's building concept is designed to draw art lovers.

Art centre on stilts plan to promote Qbn

By Kimberley Granger

An artist's impression designed to pave the way for Queanbeyan to become a "real art city" has been revealed.

The impression is of a gallery designed to sit above the existing cafe and heritage-listed building on the banks of the Queanbeyan River and has been labelled "ambitious" by Queanbeyan mayor Tim Overall.

Considered a "pie in the sky" by artist and Queanbeyan Art Society president Barry Cranston, the idea came to life through a simple cut-and-paste.

Mr Cranston's impression of a new building to host international, national and regional art was a few years in the making.

"I've been saying for a couple of years that we need to put something up there, verbally and without much response," Mr Cranston said.

"I thought I'd pull something together, and this will get them thinking anyhow."

The design, a glass-fronted building on stilts, is variable, according to Mr Cranston.

"I'm sure there are architects out there that could design something better than I've cut-and-pasted," he said.

"To see it sitting up like that, it looks like a bit of a pie in the sky. With the right architecture and everything, it would be the best seat in the house of Queanbeyan, with the view it would have."

Mr Cranston said the art society needed a new space to accommodate its growing membership.

The society's current residence, a heritage-listed building owned by the council, was too small for the number of exhibitions the society holds, Mr Cranston said.

"Our art society is a gem, there is no doubt. If we don't look ahead, we will be the shrivelled-up mushroom on the riverbank."

The design was intended to get people thinking about what could be done to the riverbank, he said.

"This would be a bit of a hallmark, to show that the other side of the bridge is worthy of development."

Cr Overall said he would describe the idea, in a single word, as "ambitious".

"It's always good to see ideas generated by the community that generate discussion," Cr Overall said.

"We must be careful to protect the river and the river vista. Anything we do has to be supported by the community."
