AMANDA McLEAN ART JOURNAL MAKING WORKSHOP

THE Queanbeyan Art Society recently hosted a highly successful journal making workshop with renowned local artist Amanda McLean. The two-day workshop was focused on making a unique personal journal using traditional Coptic book binding stitching. On day two, Amanda provided insights into sketching and painting using various techniques. Participants were guided through the process of selecting materials, creating and assembling the pages of their personal journals, and binding them together using the Coptic stitch method. This method of book binding has been used for centuries and creates a beautiful and durable binding that allows the journal to lie flat when open, making it easy to write and draw in. The workshop was attended by a group of enthusiastic artists who were eager to learn from Amanda's expertise in book-binding and sketching. They were able to create their own unique and personal journals while learning about the techniques and tools used in traditional bookbinding. On the second day of the workshop, Amanda provided insights into sketching and painting using various techniques. Participants were able to put their new journals to use as they explored sketching techniques and experimented with drawing, painting, colour pencils and posca pens. Amanda shared her knowledge and experience, providing tips and tricks for creating beautiful sketches and paintings. The success of the workshop is a testament to Amanda's passion and expertise as an artist and bookbinder. Her knowledge and enthusiasm for the subject were evident throughout the workshop, and participants left feeling inspired and empowered to continue their journaling and sketching practices.

The Queanbeyan Art Society is committed to promoting and supporting the arts in the Queanbeyan region and beyond. The success of the journal making workshop highlights the value of providing opportunities for artists to learn, create, and connect. If you are interested in attending future workshops or events at the Queanbeyan Art Society, be sure to check their website for upcoming dates and details.

There are still vacancies at the Maxine Sumner Yupo Paper Workshop on Sunday 21 May. Contact the Workshop Coordinator on qasworkshopandrew@gmail.com if you would like to participate.

Trevor Rowe

Trevor's work explores colour balance, colour contrast and colour relationships. The results are strong vibrant works through to works that are minimalist, subtle and subdued. There are recurring themes of starkness, aloneness, isolation and otherness reflecting his lived experience.

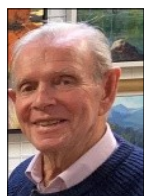

While much of his work involves acrylic on canvas and board, Trevor embraces collage and digital painting, watercolour and sculpture. He seeks to engage with viewers, inviting exploration of the creative process, patterns and markings. Also, he invites viewers to understand mediums and their meanings.

Trevor seeks to employ found materials, repurposing the mundane and ordinary into works that exhibit beauty. For example, in Earth and sky - No. 20 which is on display here makes use of supermarket receipts and in the mixed media work Earth and sky - No. 14 he has used, acrylic, tissue paper, fabric and cardboard. The fabric and cardboard provides an imaged slice of the earth with the various materials reflecting minerals and water beneath the surface.

Trevor is a member of the Megalo Print Studio. He has completed courses at the Heatherley School of Fine Art in London and in 2022 graduated with a Diploma of Visual Arts from the Canberra Institute of Technology.
