ACT TEXTILE ARTS AT GALLERY

THE ACT Textile Arts Association's (ACTTAA) annual Exhibition and Bazaar, Hanging By a Thread, opened at the QAS Gallery on Friday 15 September 2023. Well-attended by members, families and friends the exhibition was opened by well-known ACT textile artist Dr Sharon Peoples (pictured right) who spoke movingly and with humour on 'hanging by a thread' in her life.

The exhibition features members' best work over the year covering the wide range of skills that ACTTAA is known for, over a variety of textile arts, including stitching, garment embellishment, beading, knitting and felting to name a few. This year there is an abundance of garments, inspired by a series of workshops held over the year by.

The Bazaar, located at the back gallery, was brimming with textile goods for sale on the opening day. Volunteer staff are having to work hard to replenish stocks as sales are booming.

ACTTAA is delighted to be able to use the QAS Gallery for its annual event as the location draws in a vast pool of visitors from across the region. Thank you to QAS.

TED LEWIS WORKSHOP

Hi fellow card makers and crafters,

I did a card stock take today as I didn't do one in July. Attached is an excel spreadsheet with the current card and craft list so you can see what you still have in the gallery. There is also the sales for Jul and August (Sold 5 Jul to 30 Aug). Cards are in black and Craft is in red. As usual, I had some funnies which I hope I have figured out and they are shown in blue. I have looked through the note book and the only receipt book that was there (there may have been an earlier one but it wasn't there) and have tracked down that there were 3 cards sold - 2 on 5/8 and 1 on an unknown date for which no numbers were recorded. I am therefore assuming that the 3 cards I couldn't find were those cards. Although I checked the cards today, now that we have 3 card stands I ran out of time to check the craft cupboard, so I have just used the items which have actually been marked off as sold in the card list and if something else was sold and not marked off I will catch it next stock check. I may have to do cards every 2 months and the craft cupboard the same but on alternate months due to how long it takes to do stock checks of about 1000 items. Kay is getting keys for the locks on the craft cabinet and I will do some signs for it when I find where I have hidden my laminator. Unfortunately, we have to hide our cards away during the Textile exhibition so we probably won't get too many sales for the next month, so I won't do a card stock check again until end of October, at which time I think we can start putting out any new Xmas cards that anyone makes (I have already put some on the stands because we were short of cards).

I have totalled all the amounts owing to each individual artist at the bottom of the cards sold worksheet - please advise Oliver of your BSB and bank account if you haven't already done so, so that he can pay you. Barry wanted another 2 stands in the gallery and I is already set up. I have another stand but am holding off putting it in there until after the Textile exhibition. Also, I don't think we have enough cards to fill another stand yet as all the reserve stock is now on the stands so I will be happy to receive more cards from everyone. I do have a tall display cabinet which may fit by the workroom but am holding off bringing it in until after textile exhibition. If you haven't been into the gallery for a while we have also made use of the hat stand, which has some silk scarves and sewn items on it now.

I have put a stand in the front room which can be used for newsletters and application for membership forms etc. but it can also accomodate flyers, so if you have any flyers promoting your work or coming exhibitions let me know and I will bring in more flyer sized pockets to put on the stand. I will make some more cardboard inserts for the card stands (to stop them falling out) when I get time - sorry haven't done it yet - been a bit busy lately.

If you have card or craft items for me, please put them in the plastic tub in the workroom and make sure your name and price are on them (factoring in 10% commission for the craft items). Please spread the word on your social media about our cards and craft items whenever possible. Just received some lovely maple leaf jewellery from Yvonne Huggins which I will be putting in the craft cupboard tomorrow. I am keeping my eye out for a small square glass display cabinet that might fit next to the craft cupboard but not be high enough to block any art work. I know IKEA has some nice ones, but I am hoping to spot something at the green shed.

If you have any questions about your cards or craft items please don't hesitate to contact me.

Cheers Heather

A message from Sue Rabbidge.

"Please find attached the list of works from the current gallery exhibition which are proposed to go to the other venues next Thursday 7 September (unless sold in the meantime)."

FIRST ART CENTRE MEETING AT TRINCULO PLACE

First Meeting of the Art Centre Management Committee, Saturday January 8, 1983, at 5pm. Location - Art Centre, Trinculo Place.

Present: Frank Bresnik, Barry Gillman, Trevor Hardy, Hans Gerritsma, Phillip Grienke, Diane Bamford, Alan Bayley, Dorothy Lynch.

Apologies: Mercia Kaczmarowski

Minutes: The minutes of the inaugural meeting were read and accepted. (Moved Frank Bresnik, seconded Phillip Grienke).

Business arising from the minutes:

1. Formalisation of Management Group. The chairman, Barry Gillman, suggested that Paragraph 18 of the Constitutions of the Art Society, (".....The Committee of the Art Society may from time to time for such purposes as it may think fit appoint one or more of its members as a sub-committee."), made provision for the formation of the Management Committee/Sub-committee, and did not need restructuring.

Much discussion followed at this stage. The consensus being that the Management Committee needs to be autonomous.

However, the Art Gallery is part and parcel of the Art
