YOUNG ARTIST INSPIRED

Eliza aged 5 took to the Arts Trail with her mother. She was fascinated by the different mediums being used.

Enjoying the opportunity to use some watercolours she completed this painting which she took as a memento of her experiences on the Arts Trail. Her mother was interested in enrolling Eliza in an QAS Art class for children when Eliza is a bit older.

PRESIDENT'S PALETTE

THE Annual Greinke/Ballis Art Competition-Exhibition was again a wonderful event and a big thank you to Jill and Julie (QAS Life Members) for their support to the Society!

Congratulations to our QAS Treasure Oliver Cheng in his big win at the Goulburn Art Society Art Competition, winning first prize in the Watercolour. It was great to see the Jane Helmers art that is going to Melbourne to hang in a Exhibition.

We will have a full report on the Grant Money being spent on the Gallery at the moment in our next Newsletter. Already thinks are looking good. I am very pleased with the number of sales by members each month.

We are lucky to have four out lets to sell our works but also lucky to have so many quality artists in the membership. It would be good if more of our members could spread the word of the excellent gift cards available at the Gallery. Heather Holland does an excellent job to manage this area of the Gallery.

The QAS Christmas Party BBQ is coming up!!!

Yours in Art,

QAS IN THE GALLERY

Hi Members,

Attached is an Excel file which shows what the sales were from 30 August to 31 October 2023. There is a summary of each artist's sales at the bottom of the page (cards in black and craft in red). I wanted to get the information to our Treasurer before he goes away (so you can all get paid) so instead of doing an actual stock check of the items like I usually do, I have only listed items which have been marked off in the Card/Craft sales folder and a couple of items I found in the note and receipt books. If any items have been sold and ticked off I will catch them up when I do an actual stock count at the end of November. Sorry, but I just didn't have the time to do it this month as it takes over 3 hours just to do the cards.

Considering the cards and craft items were not available for purchase for some of the last month due to the Textile exhibition, I think we have done rather well for the time in which they were on offer. I took in my Xmas cards today and some more non-Xmas cards but I couldn't put them all on the stands due to renovations and lots of easels blocking one of the stands. I will go in hopefully on Thursday and take in the 4th card stand upon which I will display all the Xmas cards.

I haven't got the new glass cabinet yet from IKEA as they are still doing work in the gallery. Today we received some lovely wood turned items for the craft cupboard from Nick Dal Molin, which for now will have to go on top of the cabinet. Check them out at the Exhibition opening on Sunday if you like wood work or if you are looking for presents, as there are some nice items in the cabinet now and we will soon have some glass garden items as well. Once I get the other cabinet I will completely re-arrange the existing cabinet. Belinda has also given me some hand painted postcards which I will put on the stands Thursday and we have some new cards from Margaret Bice and Julie Colbran to go on the stands too. Congrats to those who sold cards for the first time this month. I think we just need to keep spreading the word about our card stands and craft items as much as we can.

If anyone out there does pottery you might be interested to know that all the pottery items have sold so pottery is again becoming popular I think and there seemed to be a lot of it at the Handmade Canberra Market at Epic last weekend. Erica's earrings have also been selling and Belinda sold one of her cute Teddy Bear's.

If you have any cards or Xmas items for the cupboard please leave them in my tub in the workroom and send me a text so I can race in and record them etc. and put them into the gallery. Time to start thinking about doing some Valentines Day cards/items that we can put out in January.

Contact me if you have any queries and remember to give our Treasurer, Oliver Cheng at oliverchengqas@gmail.com your BSB and bank account details if you haven't already done so.

Cheers, Heather Holland.

JOHN is keeping the front garden lovely with spring colours, thanks for the special efforts you put into the Garden!

MAP NARELLE SHEPPARD

NARELLE SHEPPARD

Farrer ACT
0403 979 123
narelle.sheppard@outlook.com

About

Narelle is originally from country NSW, and after a stint in Sydney, moved to Canberra where she has been living and working for the past 30 years.

Narelle took up art after her first son was born when she decided to explore her creative side, joining a watercolour for beginners evening class at a local college. There she met like-minded souls who she continues to paint and exhibit with 25 years later.

Initially starting out with watercolour, Narelle later began using acrylics and she particularly enjoys painting macro flowers in this medium. Narelle loves strong colour and this is evident in her work - her home is filled with colourful acrylic macro flower paintings. Though she describes herself as 'a flower painter,' Narelle also completes the occasional animal portrait.

Exhibitions

Narelle entered her first exhibition with her evening class at the college library in November 1996 where she sold her first painting.

Since then, Narelle has exhibited and sold works through:

- Artists Society of Canberra
- Queanbeyan Art Society
- Radford College Art Show
- Richardson Primary Art Show
- Farrer Primary School Art show.

Narelle and her long-term painting group 'Ladies in Painting' held their first exhibition as a group at the Yarralumla Brasserie in August 2016.

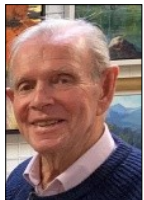

Narelle's work can also be found at the following venues on occasion:

- Beess & Co, Yarralumla
- Thirty Four Café & Restaurant, Queanbeyan
- Riverside Plaza, Queanbeyan.

Narelle is delighted to be holding her first ever solo exhibition at the Queanbeyan Art Society as their 'Featured Artist' for the month of November 2023.
